

TANZANIA WOMEN ARCHITECTS FOR HUMANITY (TAWAH)

“Decent Shelter for All”

ABOUT US

Tanzania Women Architects for Humanity is a Non- governmental Organization under Act 2002, formed in March 2011 by Women Architects, Engineers, Quantity surveyors and scientists committed to enhancing social justice by mobilizing women to spearhead building adequate shelter for marginalized communities.

WE SERVE

Marginalized groups in Tanzania including women, people living in poverty, people with special needs and indigenous populations, refugees and minorities.

OUR MISSION

Our Mission is to alleviate housing poverty and empower marginalized groups in Tanzania

“We connect women, through the collective construction of shelter and sanitation infrastructure, where we teach practical skills to low income Women at our Vocational training Centre in Mhaga, Kisarawe built by our Women builders, who in turn use their attained skills at the centre to generate new economic opportunities”.

BUILDING ELDERLY HOMES

“We restore the long-lost hope in a safe living by building homes to the elders”

The trained Women Builders are changing lives, having already built 6 homes for the elders in Mhaga Village who had very poor housing conditions. Their mission extends beyond personal gain, they aspire to spearhead decent shelters for themselves and their community.

VOLUNTEER PROGRAM

The TAWAH volunteer program is an exciting and inclusive initiative designed to bring together individuals from various educational and professional backgrounds to contribute to community development projects while building their professional experience. Up to 2024 a total of 71 volunteers have been enrolled, including students from Ardhi University, the University of Dar es Salaam and Mbeya University of Science and Technology, along with recent graduates and practicing architects from both Tanzania and Sweden. The program aims to harness the diverse skills and fresh perspectives of these volunteers to enhance the impact of TAWAH's mission in the communities it serves.

“With this vibrant team, we are poised to make an even greater positive impact on the communities we serve.”
